

Regulation in Spanish Banking 1939–1975

The Author

Maria Angeles Pons Brias works in the Department of Economic Analysis at the University of Valencia, Spain. After the University awarded her with her PhD in Economics in 1995, Pons also won the EABH's Young Scholars Prize for her outstanding work in the field of banking history in 1997. By 2000 she accomplished a second PhD, this time in Modern History, awarded by the University of Oxford. Her area of specialisation is financial and monetary history. However, lately Pons has set a focus on three other research projects, including globalisation and inequality, the Spanish Civil War and the Spanish financial crises. Hence, her most recent publication is called La España democrática (1975-2000), written in cooperation with C. Betran, A. Cubel and M.T. Sanchis in 2010
